
ORINDA VILLAGE BYPASS—1.2-mile, $900,000 road project of the county—is diagramed on this map by the Contra Costa County Public Works Department. The bypass (described by Assistant Public Works Director Vern Cline as "the most expensive mile the county has ever built") is shown by the heavy black line. Work on the project has already started. Contractors are Frederickson and Watson Company and Ransome Construction Company, both of Oakland. Completion of the job is scheduled for next summer—if next winter is mild, the work may even be finished by next spring. The bypass will extend from the Orinda Interchange at the south (at left on this map) to Miner Road. About 4000 feet of it will follow or cross over San Pablo Creek.

Delay Favored for City-Vote Fee

Library Hours May be Reduced

Should proposed budget cuts for the County library system be approved in sessions next week, a fiscal emergency may make necessary the elimination of morning hours for the Walnut Creek, Concord, Lafayette and other libraries in the county.

Mrs. Bertha Hellum, in reply to questions by The Sun, said yesterday that the $62,000 cut in the budget for libraries recommended by administrator Desmond Teeter is normal, but the additional $49,000 cut suggested by the Board of Supervisors "is the real hurt."

With these deletions, and no relief elsewhere, she will be forced to resort to one of three alternatives—close down all libraries in the next fiscal year during staff vacations, using the money saved for additional help the rest of the time—or cut back sharply on the book fund for new books—or close during the mornings the six full time libraries in the county.

THOSE LIBRARIES which at present open at 9 a.m., and close at 9 p.m., Monday to Friday, are in Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Concord, Martinez, El Cerrito and Pittsburg.

Their new hours would be 12 noon to 9 p.m. Mrs. Hellum said. "We could then use those morning hours for shelving books, mending, packing books for shipment to other branches, and unpacking.

"The library staffs just can't keep up the present pace. The Walnut Creek branch will need at least another half-time person, and the Concord branch another full-time person to keep up with the growing demand.

"The proposed $49,000 cut comes after we have already deferred many needed items, and squeezed the budget to the limit," she said.

MRS. HELLUM said that which cost-cutting alternative is best will not be decided until after the budget hearings which begin next Tuesday.

What consideration the supervisors give to allocating more money to the libraries this year will depend on the public interest shown, she continued.

Another factor is a proposal by the Concord Association of American University Women and other groups that the present library tax be raised from nine cents per $100 assessed valuation to 10 cents. This would beef up the skimmed budget, which now tentatively stands at $646,849.

This is also up to the supervisors.

The additional one cent would bring in another $55,000, making up the board's cut.

LEADERS of several library associations in the county have already written to the supervisors, stating that more money is necessary for good service, and that the higher expense will be more economical in the long run.

Mrs. Hellum stated that although the population since World War II has increased 101 per cent, the number of registered borrowers has jumped 264 per cent.

The number of books in circulation has increased 334 per cent, and the reference requests 490 per cent.

"Whatever the board decides, I will do the best I can with the money allocated," she added.

Catholic Ladies Schedule Sale

The Catholic Ladies' Guild will hold a rummage sale on Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Queen of All Saints School Hall on Grant Street across street from Catholic Church.

No Censorship, Dr. Blum Tells County Board

Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer, appeared before the County Board of Supervisors yesterday morning and declared:

"The Health Department is opposed to the censorship of books. Moreover, we do not feel that any action on the part of our office can be construed as censoring the anti-fluoridation books recently donated to the County Library."

He described Dr. Zachary M. Stadt, assistant county health officer in charge of dental health, who wrote a review-memorandum of two of the books, as "a national authority on fluoridation."

Earlier yesterday Dr. Blum had not expected to make his report to the supervisors until next Tuesday. "Then I learned the board was in session this (Thursday) morning, so I appeared before it," he said yesterday afternoon.

Jets Zoom Low Over Orinda

Jet planes zoomed so low over Orinda yesterday morning that windows rattled and housewives were terrified by the explosive reverberations.

Mrs. Martin White, 134 Meadow Lane, and Mrs. A. C. Silbert, 86 Hillcrest Drive, were among those startled by the big noise and the rattling. They saw the planes flying northwesterly and phoned the sheriff's office.

The sheriff's office told them that it had no information about the planes, and advised the women to get in touch with Travis Air Force Base, Hamilton Field or Congressman John Baldwin, if they wished to lodge protests.

It's Been Six Weeks--No Rain

The sixth week without a drop of rain was recorded by Orinda weather observers this week, and the simmery-summery temperatures continue without any break.

The last trace of rain was noted on July 6, two days after the celebration of the Declaration of Independence. Summer was only two weeks old then.

Now, the fall season is not much more than a month away. However, the wet season is less predictable.

The low at night got into the 40's this week, not a remarkable accomplishment. The highs were in the 80's and low 90's.

Here are proximate high and low readings:

	High	Low
August 8	76	52
August 9	77	53
August 10	80	52
August 11	83	46
August 12	92	50
August 13	93	51
August 14	78	51

County Planning Board Announces Lot Size Policy

Over the protests of Orinda and Pleasant Hill residents favoring one-half acre lot sizes, the County Planning Commission has adopted a policy favoring a one-third acre single family residential lot.

The action took place Tuesday at a planning commission meeting. The board adopted a policy statement "regarding the application of the various densities as provided by the single family residential districts" in the zoning ordinance of Contra Costa County.

The Commission also approved a new policy on residential lot sizes which will provide more explicit identification.

The new policy will alter lot width, depth, sideyard and setback requirements.

Preference was shown by the board in drawing up its amendment for one-third acre "R-15" lots over 20,000 square foot "R-20" lots.

The policy statement centers on the future of lands now zoned "R-A" — residential-agricultural, half-acre districts—and of lands not now zoned, but destined for large-lot development.

The R-A lot is 100-foot minimum width, with 15 and 20 foot sideyards, and no restrictions as to how close the house may be built to the back line. Proposed to supplant this is the "R-20" or 20,000 square foot lot, with 150 foot minimum width, 15 and 20 foot sideyards, and a 15-foot rear yard, as well as the customary setback.

THE POLICY STATEMENT declares that the present R-A zones will eventually be eliminated, either by change to R-20 or R-15 (the present R-1-B) third-acre zones. No new lands will be rezoned to R-A, the policy statement says.

Opposition was expressed to the planners preference for one-third acre lots by Richard Bartle, chairman of the Orinda Association's planning committee and by Joe McFarland of Pleasant Hill.

BUT THE COMMISSION steadfastly contended that the smaller lot size would eliminate the "second back yard house," so common in Berkeley. Commissioner Joe DeCosta contended that the R-20 lot size was larger than most future residents would need.

Re-Routed Creek Will Be Key Part of Bypass Job

Vern Cline, assistant county public works director, told the Orinda Chamber of Commerce last week that the 1.2-mile, $900,000 Orinda Village Bypass, work on which has already started, is "the most expensive mile the county has ever built."

The Orinda Village Bypass will extend from the Orinda Interchange to Miner Road. About 4000 feet of it will follow or cross over meandering San Pablo Creek.

Cline discussed the project at the August 6 luncheon meeting of the chamber of Casa Orinda. Chamber President Maynard Buehler, presidened at the gathering.

The assistant public works director stressed that plans have been coordinated with state and flood control agencies.

IT WAS DECIDED to straighten the creek, Cline said. He explained that the channel will be lined and that the old creek will be abandoned or filled.

"It will be cheaper and better to re-route the creek," Cline said.

The creek banks will be "gunnited," he stated. (This is a process of constructing walls or banks in such a way that pressure blows material into place, without the use of much liquid.)

Chain-link fencing will be placed along the east side of the creek (just west of the Planned Neighborhood Business District area).

However, the west side of the creek will not be fenced.

DOUBLE-BARRELED box culverting will be installed at some locations. Elsewhere, there will be open channel.

Under Plan B — approved the morning of Aug. 6 by the Board of Supervisors — the curved open channel near Leon Woolsey's place will be replaced with a closed box culvert, making an additional six-tenths of an acre which Woolsey will be able to use for parking, Cline explained.

The Plan B agreement between Woolsey and the county provides that Woolsey will contribute the difference in cost between Plan A (what the county originally planned) and Plan B.

CLINE SAID later that this difference will probably amount to about $20,000.

He mentioned that others might be interested in this type of culverting, and estimated that the additional cost for closed culverting would be $145 a foot.

But if anyone is interested in having this type of work done at that additional cost, he must act now, Cline emphasized.

JOHN OGDEN asked, "If such culverting is not done now at the extra cost of $145 a foot, how much will the extra cost be later for such a job?"

"Probably slightly over $200 a foot," Cline replied.

Traffic islands and channelizations will be provided by the county at intersections with the bypass on the west side of the creek, the speaker pointed out.

There will be no traffic lights at first along the bypass, Cline said, but underground conduit will now be installed for later use.

"The bypass does not warrant signals at this time," he declared.

Similar Dress? School Board Doesn't Care

Orinda Superintendent of Schools stated yesterday that "the Orinda School District is in no way concerned with the problem of 'similar dress' for Pine Grove School girls."

Sheaff said that his office has received a number of phone calls asking if the school district were going to enforce certain types of similar-dress costumes for girls at Pine Grove School, when school starts next month.

"THE ANSWER, of course, is 'No,'" Sheaff.. said... "It's not within the legal power of the Board of Trustees to take such action.

"It's against the law for the school board to enforce any type of uniformity in dress for school children."

Sheaff pointed out that a number of mothers of girls who will attend Pine Grove School this coming school year have encouraged the idea of similar dress among the girls at school.

"THE SCHOOL BOARD and I are neither for nor against this idea," Sheaff stressed. "It's a purely volunteer plan, by the families concerned.

"All we're interested in is that the students dress neatly.

"This fall there will be some girls wearing 'similar dress.' There will be others who will not. The school administration doesn't care whether they do or not."

New Law Would Save $1300 for Association

Indications are that the Orinda Association will wait until September 11 to pay the fee for publication of legal notice of petitions for an Orinda incorporation election and thus save $1300, Association President Gene Estes said yesterday.

Estes said that this was the sentiment of association directors at their regular meeting Monday night at Orinda School.

"Ernest Spiegl, general chairman of the association's incorporation committee, is expected back from his vacation this weekend," Estes stated.

"I HOPE to confer with him by this Saturday. Unless he has some reason for our doing otherwise, I'm sure we'll wait before depositing the fee, so that we can take advantage of a new law which goes into effect September 11."

Spiegl is an attorney.

Two other attorneys who are active in association efforts to bring about an election on incorporation have been checking on the matter, acording to Estes.

They are Jim Benney, chairman of the finance subcommittee of the incorporation committee, and Herb Waterman, chairman of the petitions subcommittee.

AT MONDAY NIGHT'S association board meeting a letter from Waterman was read. In this letter Waterman advised the directors that the association could safely wait until September 11 before paying the legal notice publication fee.

Last week County Clerk Walter T. Paasch informed the County Board of Supervisors that the petitions asking the supervisors to schedule an election on incorporation of Orinda have qualified

He pointed out that under a new law passed at the last session of the State Legislature, the proponents of the petition—the Orinda Association—could save $1300 by waiting until September 11, the effective date of the new law.

Under the present law, all names signed to such petitions must be published in the legal notice, and so a fee of $1500 would have to be paid.

BUT UNDER the new law, Paasch said, the names of the petition signers are not required in the legal notice, and this would mean that the fee would be only about $200.

Acording to Paasch, such a delay would mean that an election could not be held until the beginning of January—a month later than has been anticipated by proponents.

However, if the election were successful, a city of Orinda could be formed by February 1, so that the new city could be on the tax rolls for the 1958-59 fiscal year.

Paasch reported that the petitions contained 2763 valid signatures (slightly less than 50 per cent of the registered voters in the area, and considerably more than the 7070 property owners).

THESE VALID signatures represented $755,808 in land valuation (unimproved), slightly more than the required 25 per cent in valuation ($723,288).

Required were the signatures of at least 25 per cent of the property owners, representing at least 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of the land (unimproved).

Estes reported at Monday night's meeting that there were no new developments regarding the impasse apparently existing between the association and Pacific Intermountain Express Company about PIE's 10½-acre parcel at the Pine Grove.

The association is interested in taking steps to purchase that land, and in selling some of its Orinda Community Center land to the Orinda Community Church in order to obtain money for a down payment on the Pine Grove parcel.

The church is seeking acreage for its expansion.

HOWEVER, all negotiations are apparently at a standstill, Estes said, with PIE's word of several weeks ago that a July 15 deadline was in effect, still unchanged.

A letter from Edgar B. Stewart, one of the original participants in the campaign to raise funds with which the community bought the Community Center acreage from East Bay Municipal Utility District, was read Monday night.

Stewart questioned the advisability of selling Community Center land without first determining if the community as a whole approves such action.

The association is legal trustee of the Community Center property.

Gas War Spreading Throughout Central County Area

Gas war spread to the central county this week, driving prices down in Lafayette and at least one station in Concord.

Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill dealers' gallonage is off as much as 50 per cent, said one service station manager.

THE GAS WAR SPREAD to Orinda last week, driving regular prices down to 24.9 cents a gallon for regular and 27.9 cents for ethyl. In Walnut Creek, where prices held firm during the week, regular is still retailing for 33.2 cents and ethyl at 36.9. In Concord has been expecting in most stations and ethyl at 36.9 cents.

In Concord, all but one service station dealer reported a loss of gallonage of Oakland and Richmond commuters. Most stations—but not all—were still holding firm on their prices.

Al Simmons Texaco Station at 2785 Grant Street dropped his ethyl prices from 35.9 cents to 33.4 cents and his regular from 31.9 to 28.4 cents on Wednesday.

"I THINK EVERY gas station in Concord has been expecting this," Simmons said. "we're just waiting for some hero to start the war in Walnut Creek. If we start it, we're going to need subsidies. If we don't, it's poor business."

Burdett said that gallonage was off by as much as 50 per cent.

The lowest prices east of Orinda were reported by Craig Oil Station manager Fred March in Lafayette. Craig is retailing for 25.9 and 29.9, down from 31.9 and 34.9.

MARCH SAID THAT he had no idea of how long the war will continue, "but it doesn't look good to me."

Craig prices are controlled from the oil company offices. In Pleasant Hill, Craig manager Don Otterbein said that "everybody in the area is off in gallonage."

But prices are still stable throughout Pleasant Hill, he said.

ANOTHER PLEASANT HILL dealer said that "we are definitely anticipating the gas war here. It's not fair for the local dealers to have to maintain their prices when everyone else is dropping."

A spokesman at a station in Lafayette said that prices are still at 33.7 for regular and 37.9 for ethyl.

"The gallonage isn't affected anymore than it already has been by the freeway," he said.

BUT MANY STATIONS in Lafayette have already reduced their prices. Art Larson of Larson's Texaco Station was one of the first to cut, slashing prices from 33.9 and 36.9 to 26.9 and 31.9.

"I think this gas war will continue for quite awhile," Larson said. "until it has spread everywhere and all the prices are lower."

Larson stated that his gallonage had not improved yet, but would as "soon as the people who are driving around now with a full tank from Oakland or San Francisco run out of gas."

"Then they'll come back to the local dealers," he said.

MEANWHILE, THE SAN Francisco Petroleum Retailers Association, a Bay Area group, is meeting to find a way of controlling the gas war.

A spokesman for the group blamed marketing prices of some major oil firms as responsible for the price cutting.

"This war," he said, "threatens to spread like wildfire unless measures are taken soon."

At present, the only person benefitting from the war is the consumer.

Fluoridation 'Censorship' Denied

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

Charges of "censorship" in rejection of anti-fluoridation books were vigorously denied this week by Mrs. Bertha D. Hellum, county librarian, and Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer.

The charges were hurled by Mrs. Fred R. Brown of 40 Oak Drive, Orinda, at the County Board of Supervisors meeting in Martinez Tuesday.

In a letter to the board she stated that she had donated six books to the Orinda Branch Library and that one of the books, "The American Fluoridation Experiment," by Dr. F. B. Exner and Dr. G. L. Waldbott, had been rejected by Mrs. Hellum following an adverse written opinion from the County Health Department.

THE BOARD then decided to order Mrs. Hellum and Dr. Blum to explain the situation.

Mrs. Brown's letter was read shortly afternoon; the matter had not been on the prepared agenda. Later that afternoon Mrs. Hellum appeared before the board and denied the censorship charge.

Dr. Blum yesterday morning told The Sun that his office had not yet received an order to explain the Health Department's position but that he expected it to arrive, and that he would probably appear before the supervisors at their meeting next Tuesday.

HE SAID that Dr. Zachary M. Stadt, assistant county health officer in charge of dental health, had written a lengthy evaluation in which two of the six books were adversely criticized—"The American Fluoridation Experiment" and "The Legacy of Dr. Wiley."

Mrs. Hellum stated that, after consultation by her book selection committee with the Health Department, those two books were being rejected for the open shelves.

She said the had offered to keep them in her office, where people could obtain them on request, but that Mrs. Brown wanted the books back, so Mrs. Hellum returned the volumes to her.

OF THE OTHER four books, Mrs. Hellum said that one, "Our Daily Poison," has been catalogued and is on the shelves, and that another, "Tomorrow's Food," would probably be accepted.

Another, "Your Heart and Vitamin E," will probably be rejected, Mrs. Hellum said, because a part of it encourages "dangerous home treatment of a serious disease."

Both that book and the sixth volume, "Nutrition and Physical Degeneracy," have not yet been considered by the book selection committee, Mrs. Hellum said.

THE COUNTY librarian explained yesterday that the book selection committee is made up of representative librarians from throughout the county. The committee meets every three weeks.

Where opinions are desired regarding technical subjects, experts' evaluations are sought by the committee, Mrs. Hellum said.

She told the supervisors that, even though the Health Department's and Dr. Blum's stand in favor of fluoridation of the drinking water supply is well known, she thought it "logical to submit a book on public health to the Public Health Department."

"THE RESPONSIBILITY for selection of books is mine," Mrs Hellum declared. "The Health Department evaluated the books in question.

"We are not guilty of censorship. The problem is one of selection, with available space an important factor.

"We have pro and con information regarding fluoridation, in our library. And our staff has spent many staff-hours looking up magazine articles on the subject, at the request of interested persons.

"OUR POLICY for accepting books offered to a branch library is that they be accepted for the county library system as a whole. Because of the limited space at the branches, we have to keep moving the books around.

"At the Orinda Branch Library there are 400 square feet of floor space, and we can shelve 2100 books there. The branch is stocked with 6600 books—that means that some 4500 books are constantly in the hands of borrowers. During the 1956-57 fiscal year about 75,000 books were circulated from the Orinda Library."

Mrs. Hellum stressed that public libraries generally have consistently opposed book censorship.

IN HER LETTER attacking the County Health Department and the County Library, Mrs. Brown stated:

"For an administrative agency to have the power to deprive citizens of the right to read both sides of controversial issues seems to me to constitute censorship of its worst form. . .

"You should be able to read "The Health Department is known to favor strongly the artificial fluoridation of public water supplies, but it does seem highly improper for such a public agency to have the power to suppress . . a book which may be contrary in its views."

DR. BLUM said that the Health Department has "nothing to do with library policy or with library action regarding books.

However, if you or your neighbors want an intelligent opinion on some question of public health, the Health Department tries to give a straightforward answer," he said.

"In this case we told the people exactly what we thought."

THE COUNTY HEALTH officer added that the views expressed by Dr. Stadt were also those of the department.

In his lengthy memorandum, delivered to Miss Eleanor Watkins, reference librarian, Dr. Stadt said of "The American Fluoridation Experiment":

"It would not object to it appearing in a public library even though I would consider it a waste of money if it had to be purchased."

Regarding "The Legacy of Dr. Wiley," Dr. Stadt wrote:

"Again, I would not buy this book for my own library, but it is something that could reasonably be available for those who might want to see what it represents."

"We are opposed to censorship," Dr. Blum stressed yesterday.

WHEN MRS. BROWN'S letter was read at the Board of Supervisors meeting Tuesday, Supervisor W. G. Buchanan remarked: about both sides of anything—even communism—in a library."

However, following Mrs. Hellum's talk to the supervisors later in that afternoon, Supervisor Ivan T. Goyak commented:

"I can't see anything wrong in the selection method."

MRS. HELLUM reminded the supervisors that all books are selected by the library according to a policy approved in 1955 by the Board of Supervisors.

The library has taken no stand on fluoridation, she stated.

She pointed out that the book selection committee now has a backlog of some 1500 gift volumes to examine. The entire county system has about 220,000 books, with shelf-space for less than half of these, she said. The committee considers 1500 newly published books monthly.

"If the supervisors want to give us the land and buildings equivalent to the Library of Congress, fewer books would have to be rejected on the basis of crowded shelves and duplication of other writings," Mrs. Hellum said.

"PUBLIC LIBRARIES are the target more and more of pressure groups who either want certain materials withdrawn from the public or who wish to use us as a point of departure for some crusade. All we can do is try to maintain a sense of balance, abide by a set of principles and be practical about space limitations.

"We try to select materials of the highest quality, basing selection on principle rather than personal opinion, reason rather than prejudice and judgment rather than censorship.

"Selection and retention of a book is always on the basis of its usefulness to the public."

FCC Can't Halt Pay Television, Baldwin Learns

A letter from the Federal Communications Commission to Congressman John Baldwin this week stated that the FCC does not have jurisdiction over any of the "wired circuit" pay television systems, only over those using regular radio frequencies.

All of the three proposed pay-TV systems, phonovision, subscribers- vision, and telemeter can be delivered either by wire or by broadcast frequencies.

SKIATRON TV, a subscriber-vision system, has applied for closed circuit licenses in Contra Costa County and many California cities. Based on the letter from the FCC, Baldwin said that the "granting of such a permit will be within the jurisdiction of the cities and counties involved."

The letter, signed by acting FCC chairman Robert E. Lee, was in reply to a letter by the Martinez Republican in which he opposed pay television and asked the commission not to grant pay TV licences.

The pros and cons of broadcast subscription television will be "considered very carefully" at a September 17 hearing, Lee said.

IN CONTRA COSTA, a letter by the district attorney has requested additional information from Skiatron about their plans and system.

This week the Concord City Council postponed action on Skiatron's request for a 50-year license in the city. The council indicated that they would wait until action was forthcoming by the county.

A similiar action was taken recently by the Walnut Creek City Council which has taken the matter under study.

Bike Hits Auto, Boy, 8, Injured

An 8-year-old Concord boy was in good condition today in Martinez Community Hospital after suffering a hernia in a collision when the bike he was riding collided with a station wagon on Mt. Diablo Street.

The Tuesday accident occured when the youngster, David Carnahan of 1279 Crawford Avenue, turned into a vehicle driven by Mervin Jay Rose of 1279 Coventry Road.

Rose told police officers that he was heading west on Mt. Diablo Street at approximately 15 miles per hour when Carnahan, who was looking over his shoulder made a left turn into the car, striking the left front door.

The boy, victim of a rupture previously, was taken immediately to the Martinez Hospital. The driver was not cited.

Brignolio Faces Charge of Felony For Secchi Death

Joseph Brignolio, 35, will provide an apparent test case for a federal law designed to control unsafe boating practices.

He faces a felony charge of operating his motorboat in a manner that cause the death of a passenger, an accusation arising from the drowning of Ernest Secchi, 32, in the San Joaquin River on July 14.

BRIGNOLIO, WHO resides at 3030 Wildwood Drive, Concord, and is owner of the Farmer's Market, faces a maximum sentence of a $10,000 fine and 10 years imprisonment.

The indictment, returned by a Federal Grand Jury in San Francisco on August 8, charges that Brignolio "by misconduct, negligence, neglect and inattention to his duties" cause the "destruction of the life of Elmer Secchi."

Secchi, an Orinda produce clerk, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Secchi of 1772 Colfax Street, Concord.

THE INDICTMENT is the first in an avowed federal crackdown to halt careless operations of motorboats, responsible for many actual and near-drownings in northern California this summer.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Richard H. Foster claimed that Brignolio had taken "five or six drinks" and was running his boat 25 to 30 miles an hour across the wake of another boat in a 25-knot wind.

The Concord sportsman and market owner also faces a lesser misdemeanor charge of operating a boat neglectfully "so as to endanger the lives of persons aboard."

Soroptimists To Meet Again

After a summertime "vacation" of several weeks, the Soroptimist International of Lafayette-Orinda will resume its weekly luncheon meetings next Tuesday.

The group will meet at El Nido Lafayette, at 12:10 p.m., according to President Leah Belle Blodgett.

Thereafter the club will meet regularly every Tesday at 12:10 p.m. at El Nido.

Red Cross Request OK'd

Walnut Creek councilmen last week approved a request from the local American Red Cross chapter that the chapter no longer be required to pay a $50 per month gardening and watering fee.

The request was submitted by E. C. Countr Jr., chapter chairman. Since Counter is also a councilman, he obstained from voting on the request.

After the vote, Mayor John Connolly commented that "we had better prepare ourselves for the results of the precedent being set."

The American Red Cross chapter house is located in the city park on Civic Drive.

Also, the councilmen, reluctant to say no on first inspection, referred to City Manager Ira Gunn a request for funds from the Contra Costa Safety Council.

Jewish Women Open Season On Wednesday

The League of Jewish Women will celebrate the opening of the 1957-58 season by holding its first meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Maury Collen, 4155 Walnut Boulevard, Walnut Creek. Instead of having a formal business meeting, the afternoon will be spent in swimming, sunning and conversation.

The occasion will also be a welcome to the wife of the newly elected Rabbi, Mrs. Hirsh Cohen. Mrs. Cohen has just arrived from Philadelphia with her husband, who will assume his duties as the Rabbi of the Jewish Community Center of Contra Costa County in September. She will be welcomed by the League at this informal gathering, giving her an opportunity to meet the members in a typical California setting.

Dessert luncheon will be served.

Car Turning Right Strikes Police Car

Cars driven by a Walnut Creek man and a Walnut Creek police officer on duty collided in front of Hoky's Drive-in, 1823 North Main Street, last week.

Officer Pat O'Donnell reported August 4 that he was driving south on Main when another car ahead of him and to the left turned suddenly to the right, preparatory to entering the drive in.

Thieves Strike Again In PH

Thieves struck three times in Pleasant Hill yesterday, netting four watches which they later abandoned and $63 in cash.

The watches were from the Pleasant Hill Recreation District Park Pool. The burglars left them at Camporoni's Texaco Service Station some time during the night and removed $63 from a cash box.

At the recreation pool, the dressing rooms and pool offices were ransacked.

Also entered during the night was the Pleasant Hill Public Library. Nothing was missing this time, though thieves removed $20 in petty cash from the library last weekend.

Thieves Foiled At Med Center, Rob PH Library

Thwarted at the Pleasant Hill Medical Center, thieves successfully turned their attentions to the Pleasant Hill Public Library, settling for $20 in petty cash on their Saturday night foray.

The medical center at 1185 Oak Park Boulevard was entered through a side window and ransacked, according to sheriff's deputies. The burglars were unable to open a 20x20 upright safe.

The petty cash was all that was taken at the library.

The home of Robert Cary, 2436 Marcia Drive, was also entered over the weekend, deputies said, but there was no evidence of theft.

The telephone was pulled from the wall.

Heady-Out Gets Out! Post Family is Frantic

By NORMAN COLBY

Heady-Out's got Out!"

The word was passed quickly among Stephen, 9, Marjorie, 6½, and Roddy, 2½, children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Post of 1881 Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Stephen and Marjorie raced out of their yard, and look anxiously up the down the streets. They then ran to their mother with the bad news.

THE POSTS hurried to a local newspaper to place a want ad. It seemed the only thing to do!

Then they waited.

"We must find Heady-Out, mother," Stephen insisted.

And no wonder. Like one of the family is Heady-Out, the lady land turtle who with her husband, Heady-In" came to stay with the Posts two years ago.

THE PAIR, whose dark-brown shells are about eight inches across, were given to the children by grandparents in Southern California.

H-in and H-out made themselves at home in the back yard. They burrowed into the earth, making little tunnels, and set up housekeeping.

The rather descriptive nicknames were arrived at after the children discovered that the lady turtle was the more active of the two—always plodding about the yard, in and out of the house—head poking far out from under the shell.

Heady-in," the husband, turned out to be the stay-at-home type. His beady little eyes are usually hidden way back under his protective shell. He likes to stay put.

LAST WINTER, while Heady-in was content to burrow into the back yard for hibernation from November to April, Heady-Out picketed the back door until admitted, and headed for the hall closet.

Her six-month nap was uninterrupted among the dust mops and storage boxes.

So, when the back gate was inadvertently left open, last week, the family was dismayed but not too surprised to find that Heady-out had taken a powder, while Heady-in was conked-out in the sun.

The tried to make out the turtle tracks, but no luck. The check of nearby streets revealed no smashed flat Heady-Out.

The suspense finally ended when a gang of children came trouping up the street, several days later. Heady-out had been found determinedly stroking along about a mile from the house in the Arlene Gardens area. Her return trip was via air.

Mrs. Post, the wife of a University of California physicist, commented, "The poor thing. Its about time for her to lay her eggs. Last year, she laid them in the back yard, but none of them hatched.

"I guess she thought she'd find a better place for them, this time."

More Candidates, Rumors For Sixth Superior Judge

By POLITICUS

It's hard to separate the facts from the fancy as Contra Costa enters its final week prior to appointment of a sixth superior court judge.

The hats of additional attorneys mentioned as candidates for the job virtually blotted out the ring this week in the wake of a poll sponsored by the County Bar Association concerning member preference on a new judge.

THE POLL is suppostedly being conducted at the request of Governor Goodwin Knight following a "protest movement" two weeks previous against Martinez Judge Tom Fraga, the likely appointee.

But an informed observer told The Sun on Wednesday that the governor had not asked for the poll at all and would discount the results of the survey. This same observer stated that "27 candidates" were being considered by the governor.

Another attorney, who stated two weeks ago that many attorneys would not consider Fraga's appointment "in the interest of justice," said that he regarded the poll as a possible indication that the Martinez judge was no longer a cinch for the job.

FRAGA, WHO The Sun predicted as odds - on - favorite several weeks ago, is reportedly the choice of Assemblyman Donald Doyle, the county's only Republican legislator in Sacramento.

Many close observers believe that the final appointee will definitely be a Republican—and definitely from Doyle's assembly district. That would narrow the field.

Two active Republicans, Robert Pedder of Lafayette and Louis Bernheim of Richmond, are reported as seeking the judgeship. Bernheim was an early Knight supporter and is rated by some as the most probable choice if Fraga is passed by.

ALSO MENTIONED this week as other possibilities were two Walnut Creek attorneys, Betsy Rahn and City Attorney John Nejedly. The familiar cast of candidates is still headed, of course, by Assistant District Attorney Tom McBride, Concord Municipal Court Judge John Garaventa and Richmond Attorney Vance Porlier, all Democrats.

Garaventa, now serving in San Francisco as a muni judge, formally announced his candidacy last week.

Add to this group two more probable candidates: Mortimer Veale and Martinez City Attorney Francis Hoey. Which makes 10 possibilities in one story.

Where are the other 17?

Acalanes Trustees Approve Budget, Tax Rate of $1.75

The Acalanes Union High School District trustees last week approved a $2,269,705 budget, and an increase in the tax rate from $1.61 per $100 assessed valuation to $1.75, the legal limit now allowed.

Included under expenses are instructional costs, totaling $1,586,380, and capital improvements—$449,220.

Some of the building facilities covered by this budgeted amount are already under construction. During the course of the budget discussion, it was reported by District Superintendent Neil Parsons that educational costs per pupil had risen 4.7 per cent last year over 1955-56.

AT THE MEETING, Will C. Hall of Reliez Valley, Lafayette, was elected president of the board for the current year and Mrs. Alice McBride of Walnut Creek, clerk. It is customary for the Acalanes Board to rotate the presidency annually.

Meeting dates of the board were changed from the second and fourth Mondays of the month to the second and fourth Tuesdays. The next regular meeting is scheduled for August 27.

Employment of three teachers was approved bringing to 37 the total number of new teachers hired by the district for next year. Of this number, 21 are additional instructors. The balance are replacements.

Two acts of vandalism to district property were reported at the meeting. Both occurred at Miramonte High School. In one, three busses had been moved around the bus enclosure evidently with the power coming from the batteries and had caused bus body and fence damage to the extent of $300.

IN THE OTHER, an automobile had been driven to to and skidded on the new turfed athletic area and baseball field which had recently been planted at a cost of several thousand dollars to the district.

It was reported the sheriff's office was investigating both cases.

In other business, the board authorized Superintendent Parsons to take steps to develop an access to Las Lomas school grounds from East Newell Street to the north, call for bids for the sale of used bus tires, approve renovating of the heating system for the Acalanes High School library.

Freeway Slated For Discussion On Sept. 18

A second public meeting has been scheduled for September 18, 10 a.m., in the Oakland Technical High School Auditorium, located between 42nd and 45th Streets on Broadway in Oakland, concerning the possible locations for a freeway to connect the Eastshore Freeway and the Broadway Low Level Tunnel.

This was announced yesterday by B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer.

Following the public meeting of last December 19, the Oakland City Council requested that the State Division of Highways reevaluate the various alternate routes discussed at the meeting, and investigate additional locations.

"This meeting is for the purpose of presenting the information which has been developed as a result of these additional studies," Booker said.

"Interested persons will be given an opportunity to express their views concerning the locations being considered at the meeting, and all testimony will be transcribed and made a part of the official record."

Moving Is Good Thing, Realtor Head Declares

Contra Costa County residents among the 16 million Americans who will be changing homes this summer merit congratulation, not commiseration, according to J. H. Carter, president of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board.

The job of packing and unpacking household and personal effects is disliked by the average family and with reason, Carter admitted. But this disadvantage is more than outweighed, he maintained, by the opportunity presented by the move to better the family living conditions."

"LOOK AT IT this way," the Contra Costa Realtors' executive urged. "Most people learn a lot from every place in which they live—whether it's an apartment or a house. They learn what they like and dislike in living quarters, and they get ideas of what they should rent or buy in their next apartment or house."

County Publicity Man Not Favored; Goyak Dismayed

A public relations man in the pay of Contra Costa County would be "suspect in regard to the news releases he might produce. The average citizen would be skeptical . . ."

This was the opinion submitted by County Administrator Desmond Teeter and District Attorney Francis Collins, last week, when they were asked by the Board of Supervisors about the feasibility of hiring a public relations man to get information on legislation in Sacramento and to issue press releases.

Supervisor Ivan Goyak of Richmond had expressed great interest in this, and said Tuesday after the report was received that he was disappointed.

COLLINS and Teeter commented that no other county employes a public relations man and that only chartered counties employ a legislative representative in Sacramento during sessions of the legislature.

The county, however pays $4180 annually for year round service of the legislative staff of the State Supervisors Association in Sacramento.

Their report suggested that supplemental work of providing information on bills of local interest while they are in committee and in debate might be done by legally trained deputy district attorneys.

It continued that any county public relations man would probably feel that his job would depend on keeping information on county operations "favorable," and added that newspaper reporters are now covering the news efficiently.

THE REPORTERS would not accept "boiler plate material, it added.

Goyak persisted by saying that "Many excellent opportunities for the county to improve the public's knowledge of government and its problems were missed or fumbled because of the failure of county officials to recognize their potential value."

He said that the county was not informed on what was happening in the closing days of the 1957 session, when a bill locally supported was amended 65 times in one afternoon. It was three days before the final result was known.

The supervisors decided to study the report further.

Fear of Suit Against Transit District Told

Fear that two Contra Costa County cities will be left without transit service if a suit against the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District is continued, was expressed this week by backers of the suit.

At present, a suit is pending against the transit district by residents of San Pablo and Richmond, who contested the mix-up of ballots at the election which formed the district.

The prospect is scheduled to be discussed at a meeting of the Richmond City Council and representatives of the Contra Costa Transit Council at 10 a.m. Monday.

RESULTS OF THE suit would in now way invalidate the district, but it might influence the transit situation in the two named cities.

Francis Watson Jr., attorney for the Council which plans to file the suit, told the Richmond City Council that his clients do not want to go ahead without the formal support of the Richmond and San Pablo City Councils.

State Attorney General Edmund G. Brown granted permission for the suit July 25. It was granted on the basis that there was no breakdown of absentee ballots and the vote in Richmond, San Pablo and the unincorporated areas was so close that it could have been decided by the absentee vote.

IN OTHER ACTION the transit district announced that its first budget will be presented to the board of directors at a special meeting within a month.

The financial committee unanimously approved the $149,200 budget August 8. The proposed budget will result in a less than one cent per $100 assessed valuation tax to the Taxpayers.

Expenditures in the budget include $65,000 for professional engineering and legal fees to cover the anctipated costs of pressing condemnation against Key System; $43,000 for salaries and wages; $38,200 for maintenance and operation and $3000 for capital outlay.

Buchanan Field Heliport Site Is Considered

Buchanan Field is listed as a possible heliport site in a report issued Tuesday proposing a 19-city Bay Area helicopter transportation system.

The report, prepared by the San Francisco Bay Area Council's aviation committee, lists 13 cities which have sites for immediate helicopter locations.

SIX OTHER CITIES, including Concord, are listed as potential heliport locations.

According to the report, travel time from Concord to San Francisco could be reduced from the peak hour time of 93 minutes to 13 minutes with helicopter transportation.

First class mail service would also be improved, the report said.

The cities in the proposed system include: San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, Hayward, Novato, Palo Alto, San Carlos, Santa Rosa, Sausalito, Santa Cruz, Watsonville, Monterey, Sacramento, Stockton, Concord, Napa, San Leandro, San Mateo, San Rafael and Vallejo.

9270 Petition Against School Tax Exemption

According to James Olsson, chief clerk in Paasch's elections office the signatures have been forwarded to Secretary of State Frank Jordan. The verified signatures were among some 11,000 collected on 280 separate petitions.

Six years ago, the private church schools were granted exemptions when controversial propostiion 3 was narrowly approved by the state's voters.

WHY WHOLESALERS BUY AT RETAIL . . .

Ever hear of a wholesaler paying retail price for a suit of clothes? Here's the address where they do it . . . 1280 South Main St. just about every day, 6 days a week, a parade of manufacturers and wholesale representatives troop through our door to buy their clothes at Johnnys. Men who make sport shirts, women's dresses, work clothes, children's wear, and various other apparel. All these men have good friends in the clothing business. Men who can "get it for them wholesale." But they come to Johnny's instead. Why? Who could recognize our values better than experts? Those in the trade tell each other about our prices. Why should any man ask a pal to do him a favor when he can get better selection and better service here, and pay not a penny more than his wholesaler pal would charge him? Besides, when he comes here he's not under obligation to anyone. Nobody comes back to him and says, "Now look, you let me send the wife down to buy some dresses at wholesale." Everybody gets the "inside price" at Johnny's. We offer you America's finest clothes at good stiff discounts. And you don't have to know Joe or Moe or anybody else to "get in."

HELLO AGAIN, all you good friends.

After a self-inflicted vacation of a few weeks this summer, I am back with not too much news, but wanted to let you know I am still around.

Hot, but alive!

PEAR SEASON

Pear season is on again, and all is teeming activity around our neighborhood.

When the pears are ready to harvest, the picking crews appear and so do the neighbors' kids, waiting to get a job sorting, or what have you?

This is important to all the youngsters, for it is our only means to earn that "all-important" spending money. Also, the cash comes in mighty hand to buy school clothes, which (ask me) amounts to a goodly sum every fall.

VACATIONS

Everybody has been taking vacations—or will be soon.

Disneyland seems to have been most popular, with a few going toward Tahoe, or north.

Two weeks ago, the Thune family welcomed home the wandering head (?) of our household. Two months of touring Europe resulted in a liberal education and an extensive series of beautiful colored slides. Prize of the collection was a lovely shot of a pretty French girl in a Bikini bathing suit on the Riviera!

The cute little girl in the Moraga grocery store is Miss Vickie DeMar, cousin of Evelyn Kazar, from Menlo Park.

FIRE ON TRUCK

Excitement the other day resulted from railroad ties catching fire on one of Dalzell's semi-trucks.

Getting them off the truck, pushed them into the surrounding weeds and set a fire, bringing out the fire trucks.

No damage done.

HERE FROM GERMANY

Mrs. Margie Van Meter and daughter, Rebecca, arrived at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wandel of Camino Pablo, this week from Zweibrucken, Germany, where she has been living the past year.

Her husband, Gerald will follow next month, as he has received his discharge from the Army and is once more a civilian.

Well, let's get me some news, so the news column will be worthwhile next week. See you then!

TRUCKS

There are 632,000 truck trailers now in use in the United States.

Kindergarten at Nielsen School

A special kindergarten session will be conducted at Nielsen's Nursery School and Kindergarten, 1033 Clinton Court, Lafayette, for the term starting September 4.

This new kindergarten session will be for children 4 years and 9 months old as of September 1, 1957, Mrs. Clinton (Gertrude) Nielsen, director of the state-licensed, centrally located school, states.

Her phone number is AT 3-3445. The nursery school sessions will continue as before, for children between 2 years, 6 months of age to 4 years, 9 months, as of September 1 this year.

Class periods—for both the new kindergarten and the nursery school—will be 1 to 4 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

Moraga School Again Minus Kindergarten

Moraga School District trustees, in regular meeting at Moraga School, told a group of 36 parents Monday night that there will be no kindergarten class at Moraga School this year.

In answer to the parents' request that a kindergarten class be established this fall, the trustees stated that the school board had already considered the matter during budget discussions, that there are not enough kindergarten-age children in the district to justify such a program now, that it is too late to provide for financing of such a class and that no classroom is available.

The trustees said they would ask the Lafayette and Orinda districts if they would consider taking kindergarten children from the Moraga district, provided the latter pays the charges. Last year the Lafayette district took in eight children on this basis.

The board stated that a new Moraga school building which will include kindergarten facilities is expected to be built and completed by the fall of 1958.

Social Status Is Not Deterent Says Probation Officer

Walnut Creek's example explodes the concept that there is less juvenile delinquency in areas where the parents' financial and social status is higher, Lions Club members were told, Wednesday.

Bob Hamlin, a Contra Costa County probation officer, said that the juvenile crime rate here is "higher than normally believed."

He added that Walnut Creek has more delinquency than Antioch or Pittsburg, industrial towns with greater populations.

IT ALSO LEADS Pleasant Hill, and is just ahead of Concord in a county which has the highest delinquency rate of any in the Bay Area, he continued.

The basis for his remarks are reports that are turned into the California Youth Authority periodically by each county. They number the referrals of youths to the Youth Authority, and the cases where youths are retained on probation.

Hamlin said after the meeting, "My main point is that most people think that in the wealthier areas, there is less delinquency.

"On the contrary, there seems to be more delinquency, and the crimes committee are of a more serious nature—like hit-and-run, auto theft and burglary.

"BIGGER CITIES have more petty theft and truancy," he added.

"This is the general situation all over the country."

Hamlin said that Contra Costa County has 223 juvenile cases retained for further action per $100,000 population, compared with 155 for Alameda County, 99, San Francisco, 92, Marin, and 81, San Mateo.

As for Walnut Creek, there are now 35 boys and 10 girls on probation, and 10 of the boys are on parole.

"I should also say that policies on reporting juvenile cases vary from county to county, and so comparisons are apt to suffer as a result," Hamlin said.

"But this shows that delinquency is not the other town's problem, it is here too."

Hamlin added that Richmond has a problem, with some 700 cases the average number at hand, compared with 500 for the rest of the country. Richmond has a population as large as the rest of the county.

Elks Planning Blood Type Party at Lodge

A new approach to the blood donation program will be initiated by the Walnut Creek Elks Lodge tomorrow evening.

The group will endeavor to obtain blood types of a majority of its members at a "Blood Type" party at the local lodge building on South Main Street.

Stan Schaffer, chairman of the Elks blood donation program, and a staff of technicians from the Walnut Creek-Lafayette Laboratories and Kaiser Hospital, will type the blood and set up records.

Members of the lodge whose blood type is on file henceforth will be called for donations according to type when needed, according to Schaffer. Eventually, the lodge hopes to maintain blood type records of its entire membership of more than 600.

District Attorney Job Considered By John Nejedly

Walnut Creek City Attorney John Nepedly told The Sun last week that he might be "of most service to the public" if he should run for the post of County district attorney, held by Francis Collins.

He emphasized, however that he has not made any decision in the matter, and that he is still considering running for California Assembly or making himself available for a superior court judgeship.

He added, "There are these possibilities, and I am not sure the best course to take yet. But from what I have heard, perhaps I could be of most service to the public in the district attorney's job."

Nejedly has been city attorney of Walnut Creek for 10 years, and was a deputy district attorney from 1946 to 1950.

He was a candidate for nomination to the State Assembly in 1952, and was second in a field of seven GOP candidates for the 10th District post held by Donald Doyle. Rumors are that Doyle may not run in the 1958 election.

WINNER OF SEVEN consecutive state championships and fifty-four straight first place, each unit, are the Martinettes Junior Drill Team and Drum Corps. A movement is now under way to send the group to the National Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Miami.

New Addition to Kaiser Children's Section Starts

Ground was broken Friday for the construction of a new $53,000 addition to the pediatrics ward at the Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Walnut Creek, according to the hospital's new administrator William E. Smikahl.

The addition, financed in most part by the Ford Foundation's grant to the hospital, made earlier in the year, will raise the bed capacity to 16 beds in the children's ward.

In addition to the new beds, the area will include a treatment and a basement area, which will provide space for the new telephone dial system equipment.

According to Smikahl, the building is scheduled to be completed within 90 days.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Bats in your belfry?

SUMMER IN THE SUBURBS . . . Cobwebs in the kitchen, ants in the pantry, kittens in the cellar, oak leaves in the refrigerator (Will they EVER learn to close the doors!) and burrs in the blankets.

Kids for Koolaid in the backyard, bees in the barbecue, moths in the rugs, gophers in the garden, nothing on Television and iced tea on the terrace.

Damp suits ASTREW in the house. Limp towels ASKEW on the clothesline.

CRICKETS IN THE KINDLING, cocoons in the curtains, wormholes in the apples and salt or sugar on the cantaloupe.

Watermelon Wedges. And seeds from same ALL OVER! Peach preserves cooling on the counter and a lug of the velvety fruit in the larder.

A slice of summer—

AUGUST A LA MODE . . . The showing-off of summer snapshots and vacation souvenirs, the College Set impatiently christening their Fall campus togs, The poolside debut of BRAND NEW bathing suits, had for a 'song' at season's-end Sales.

The mirth of moppets at make-believe play. A sudden squall to send a Mama to the rescue. Beat-up jeans and broken-down bikes, busted balls and airless tubes!

Sleeping Out in sleeping bags. And overnite guests for the children. And Whose turn NOW to have someone to supper?

A LAZY FAT MOON lit up like a lantern, a perfect companion for your private patio time. Steaks sizzling on the fire.

Melting ice cream and icky-sticky fingers from popsicle drippings. And lest we forget, the humble hotdog!

The goodness of gardening. A thirsty hillside and drooping daisies. And the put-off plans that will finally take shape when you "get around to it" this Fall. For SURE!

TWO WEEKS UNTIL SCHOOLTIME and the sudden woeful glance you give your fall wardrobe. A soleful look from Father who'll foot the bills for the soleless shoes that need replacement.

The famiy budget squeezing in new school clothes and supplies. And a mother's irrepressible desire to DUCK AWAY from it all. Just for a few quiet hours!

SUMMER'S END SOON. And a combined sense of sadness and gladness will go with it!

VILLAGE GRAPEVINE . . . The Gerald Tesmans were guesting at Clear Lake this week. Ditto the Gordon Ainsworths, who opened the deer season there . . . The Al Baers back from Tahoe, as are the Carleton Ranks.

Diablo as a testing ground for their sleeping bags one wknd. recently. NOW are camping out and moteling along the Southland routes to D-land, Knottsberry Farm, etc.

Jean and Joe Downs left their golf bags home and behaved just like all the other Tourists on a recent fling to Ensenada, La Jolla and other intriguing spots south.

Blanche Brody and her medic husband Burt have taken Jeff and Meredith to Carmel Valley for a stay at the Valley Lodge. Joining them there for a week of family fun and relaxation are Gwynneth and Jerry Donchin of Oakland, who w/their youngsters will soon be moving into the new house they are visiting on Vista Del Orinda high in our hills.

The welcome mat is out—

ARKANSAS TRAVELERS . . . have reached the Sleepy Hollow home of Natalie and Bob Williams, who this week welcomed HIS brother Henry and wife Jean and their two children for a first-time treat of California.

From the East, Rev. Russell Loughman enjoying a family reunion and a first-time trip out West too w/his brother Gerald (Bud) Loughman and family at their Hacienda Circle home.

Interestingly enough, the Loughman brothers grew up in New Rochelle, their family home formerly belonging to George M. Cohan, who wrote his famous "45 Minutes to Broadway" from there.

OVER ON MARIPOSA LANE, Jerry and Lou Grimes had as their July houseguest Mrs. Walter Stevens from Mamaroneck, NY. . . . the highlight of the Easterner's visit, a holiday in Carmel, SHE hoping to return w/her husband to retire here in our salubrious sunshine. (Well, occasional Fog IS refreshing!)

'Safety' Cited As Reason for Creek Culverts

The Orinda Association's planning committee discussions with property owners of the Planned Neighborhood Business District regarding problems of the creek and culverting, in connection with the Orinda Village Bypass project, are based on the committee's desire for "cooperation, safety and a better job."

This was stated yesterday by William Penn Mott Jr. a member of the committee and a long-time resident of Orinda. Dick Bartle is chairman of the committee.

The matter was discussed at some length at a meeting of the committee the night of July 29, which some of the property owners attended, on invitation of the committee. The meeting was held at the home of Claire Ward, association secretary.

"WITH THE WEST side of the creek unfenced along the Orinda Village Bypass, there will be a definite safety problem," Mott said.

"Perhaps there is the possibility that the county may be able to pay for part of box-culverting of the creek at various locations.

"This might be a possibility if the county needed part of a property owner's parcel—maybe an arrangement could be worked out whereby the county's payment or partial payment for culverting would be in lieu of straight payment to the property owner.

"IN OTHER WORDS, county funds for desired parcels or strips of land could be applied to the cost of culverting, in such instances."

Mott declared that culverting would be "much more satisfactory," than "gunniting" and an open channel.

"The new highway will parallel the creek," he pointed out. "In accidents, cars could skid into the creek; also, youngsters could fall into the water."

"Our purpose in discussing and investigating the problems of the creek and culverting is to get all the facts on the table," Mott said.

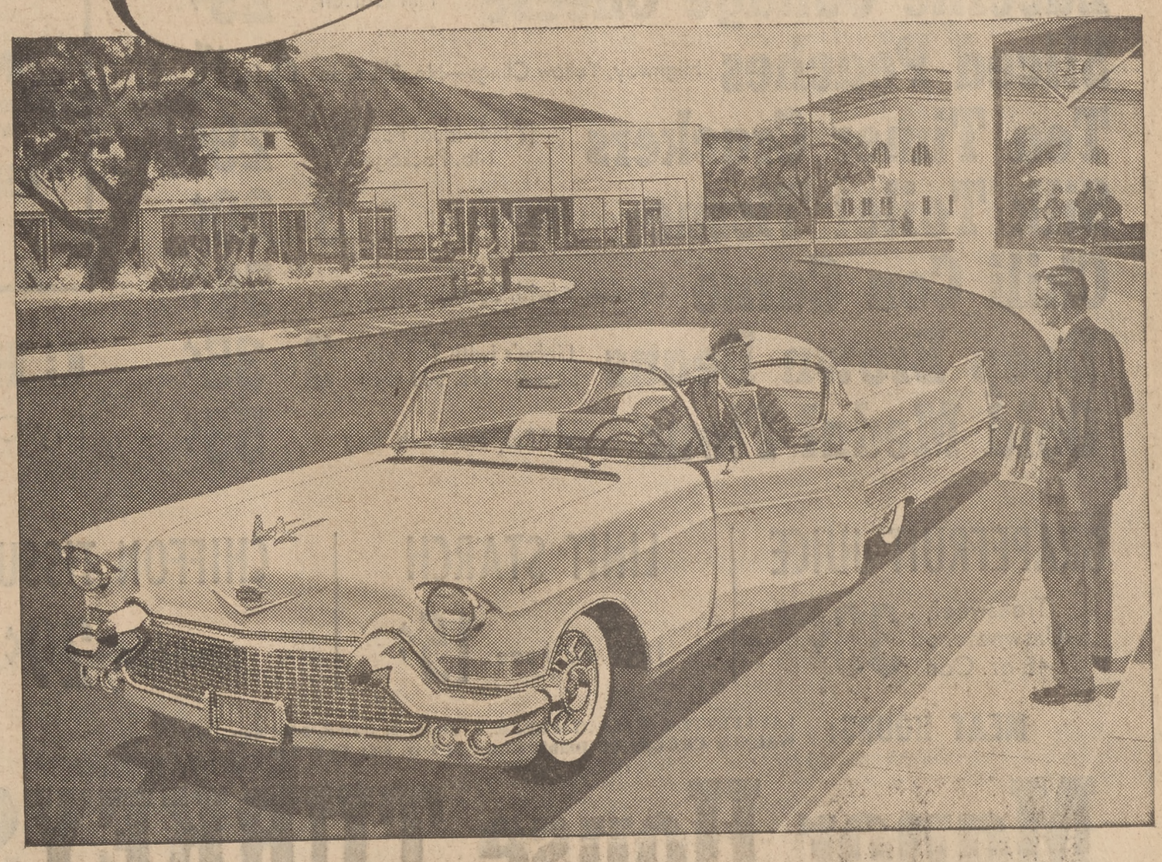
Cadillac



Keeping Current... For Economy!

In the illustration above, you see a very happy man at a very wonderful moment.

The title, the keys and the car are his—and he's starting out on his first journey at the wheel.

Of course, there's not much doubt as to why he decided to purchase a new Cadillac.

Like everyone else who selects the "car of cars", he did it to "keep current", so to speak, on all of Cadillac's new miracles of performance and beauty and comfort.

But coming to Cadillac, as he did, at this particular time of the year, we also suspect that he was inspired by the added motive of practicality.

For in addition to the normal Cadillac economies of modest purchase price, low operating cost and high resale value—Cadillac dealers are, at this time, seasonally prepared to make Cadillac ownership even more attractive than ever.

Because of the demand for used cars and because of increased production of the Cadillac car itself, the odds are that this gentleman received both a generous allowance on his previous car and prompt delivery of his new Cadillac.

Have you considered how wonderful it would be to step into a Cadillac of your own? Then, you should pay your dealer a visit—spend an hour on the highway in the luxury of Fleetwood coachcrafting—and get the facts for yourself.

You'll agree, we know, that the car is Cadillac —and the time is now!

Orinda Incorporation Deserves 'Yes' Vote

With the qualifying of the petitions asking the County Board of Supervisors to schedule an election on the question, the subject of incorporation of Orinda as a city assumes greater importance, even, than has been the case until now.

It seems almost certain that in the fairly near future the Board of Supervisors will conduct a public hearing and that an official election will be held in Orinda in the next few months.

At that election a simple majority vote will decide whether or not Orinda becomes a city.

Obviously, this is an issue which requires serious study — calm, careful perusal of all available facts.

Such study must be on the basis of objective considerations. We must not be swayed by emotions or sentiment, by personal likes or dislikes.

Our only criterion should be the yardstick: Does it appear that incorporation will be of benefit to Orinda?

We have expressed those thoughts before, and we cannot reiterate them too emphatically.

At the same time, we repeat what we have been saying at intervals during the past several years:

We believe that incorporation of Orinda is inevitable; that incorporation offers Orindans the most effective way of controlling the destiny of the community.

Therefore, we hope that when an Orinda incorporation election is held, an overwhelming majority of the voters cast their ballots in favor of incorporation.

The problems that beset Orinda are so many and so vital that it is both wasteful and inefficient for them to be decided by county government in Martinez.

Let us hasten to point out that — even though in the past Orindans have had, at times, good reason to complain about the way local matters were handled in Martinez — this last statement is not necessarily an indictment of our county government.

And we say this with full recognition of the intensity of conflict which has existed — and still exists — in regard to arguments about local problems. For we are convinced that the people of Orinda are intelligent enough and civic-minded enough to be able to solve their community problems.

It should be borne in mind that other communities, like some on the Peninsula, have successfully incorporated for the main purpose of preserving their semi-rural character. So Orinda is hardly unique in this respect.

Another point which should be stressed: County cooperation in certain fields — such as road work — can easily be arranged, through agreements between a new city and the county.

The Orinda Association and its incorporation committee are to be commended for their efforts at bringing the facts before the public and for the successful petition campaign.

Those facts should now be studied very carefully. And we sincerely hope that such study will influence most Orindans to vote in favor of incorporation.

No Sting in Contra Costa

By NORMAN COLBY

When the rugged Spaniards in 1772 explored the area now known as Contra Costa County they found themselves outnumbered by a vicious enemy.

The enemy was not a band or band of Indians — there were few or none of them. The iron-clad men found themselves cursing and swatting at massive clouds of bloodthirsty mosquitoes.

They cleared out, as did their Indian predecessors, leaving East Bay lands to the insects!

A hundred and fifty years later, the settlers moving into Northern California and this area fought against the descendents of the Spaniard-biters with only limited success and efforts to industrialize were suffering as a result.

Then, in 1926, the Contra Costa Mosquito Abatement District was formed.

Some folks say they still see a mosquito now and then. As a resident of two years, I can swear that I have never seen a mosquito, dead or alive, in my travels or at home in Pleasant Hill.

We enjoy the comfortable coolness in our front yard every evening, without bites. Omaha, the starting point for my migration, was a heaven for mosquitoes. It must have been — there were so many of them.

The local mosquito district last April celebrated its 30th anniversary, figured from the day actual work began.

It is constantly alert for new conditions which might breed mosquitoes, in addition to applying procedures that have proved so successful in past years.

Trustees of the district include Mrs. George Faul of Concord, Elmer Cameron of Walnut Creek, Paul H. Woods of Lafayette, a county appointee, and others. Ernest Campbell of Martinez is the district manager.

The 30th Anniversary pamphlet has all sorts of miscellaneous information. For instance, there are 509 square miles in the district, with an estimated population of 239,077 (people, not mosquitoes). The district tax rate is 3.2 cents per $100 assessed valuation, and costs during 1955-56 were $79,273.42.

That the mosquito problem didn't abate itself in the years after the explorers is evident from a quote used in the pamphlet:

"In the Gold Rush period, mosquitoes in the San Francisco area wore pants made from the sails of ships lying idle in the Bay. On the East Coast, sailors did not mind the Jersey mosquitoes, but whenever they were attacked by mosquitoes wearing sailcloth pants, there was panic aboard, for the sailors recognized them as roving bands of mosquitoes from San Francisco."

Other tid-bits:

There are 46 kinds of species of mosquitoes in the state; many of them were in this area.

Neglected swimming pools breed mosquitoes. There are about 1225 pools in the district.

Mosquitoes carrying malaria and diseases of the brain are not prevalent here, but the district is alert for them.

Mosquitoes are now too tough for DDT, and new insecticides have been developed for them.

The district will offer advice and help where there is a fly problem. Home garbage cans are the main breeding places for flies.

The district in 1956 sprayed 1080 miles of creeks at a total cost of about $5 per mile.

Pending Monetary Policy Astonishes Wall Street

I have been on the scent of the dollar problem for quite awhile and I think it is time that I did something about straightening out the money system of this country. The trouble with money is that there isn't enough of it in the right places (i.e. my billfold). It's all in the Bank of America or maybe at Fort Knox (no relation to football's Harvey).

What we need is a stable dollar. Doesn't this make horse sense? But there are so few stables anymore—nothing but two car garages with two cars and thirty-six monthly installments!

My theory is this:

Base money on Wrigley's Spearmint instead of gold. A package of gum has a very constant value. It's been worth a nickel for as long as I can remember. Used as a reserve for created bank credit, gum would surely provide an elastic medium of exchange. And, there should never be a shortage. Think of all the tons of slightly used gum there is—under chairs, tables, counters, arches of shoes, and behind ears . . . everywhere!

Then there would be the added advantage of not having to dig something out of the ground so that it could be buried somewhere else. Money would really grow on trees—chicle trees! Wouldn't it be nice to have money in several different flavors instead of just the mint we used to have in San Francisco?

Only one thing bothers me:

What would happen to the economy if some unscrupulous financier substituted bubble gum which is easily inflated?

* * * * *

One can certainly tell that 1958 is an election year. The politicians are trying to put through that perennial Federal employee pay raise.

* * * * *

I think I'll run for District Attorney. I'd make a good one. I don't know anything about law so I wouldn't have any private practice!

* * * * *

Watched the Forty-Niners work out at Moraga the other day. They look good. Frankie Albert pointed out the most offensive player—a guy who east garlic like peanuts!

* * * * *

They dug up another skeleton last week (no, it didn't come from a closet in Martinez). It amazes me how accurate scientists are! They say the age of that mastodon bone found in Pleasant Hill is between 10,000 and 1,000,000 years. How can they come so close? Was it a female?

* * * * *

I dug up an old fossil once, but when I found out that she was broke, I ditched her!

Letters to The Editor

ON FLUORIDATION

DEAR EDITOR:

I would like to congratulate Mr. Mitchell, Mrs. Stone, Mr. Kahn and Mr. Baldwin for their contributions to the cause of objective, scientific reasoning.

I call Mrs. Jeffrey's attention to the fact that The Sun published nothing but the anti-fluoridationist view last week, even though I had an article ready for inclusion. I rightly reasoned that there was not enough room for my contribution as there are other points of view that many people consider pertinent.

All to often, where voting has been negative on the subject of fluoridation, the simple expedient of throwing a "poison" scare into citizens a few days before the election has kept the community from a free expression of choice. Where people are informed on the true nature of their decision, the outcome is inevitably in favor of fluoridation.

LET US TAKE a quick look at "The American Fluoridation Experiment" by F. B. Exner, M.D., edited by James Rorty.

In August, 1956, Dr. George D. Dore Jr., president of the Seattle District Dental Society, writing about Dr. Exner to Martin W. Erickson, Department of Public Health, Gastonia, N.C., stated: "He has apparently done a lot of research into anti-fluoridation articles and in his debates and articles he twists the facts to suit his own needs."

"In a memorandum opinion, Superior Judge John J. Langebach, South Bend, dismissed Dr. Exner's suit against the Chehalis Fluoridation League. The dismissal was with prejudice, which means the case cannot be brought again on the basis of the same facts." (Reprint from Febuary 15, 1957, News Letter of the American Dental Association.)

Dr. Heinrich Hornung, a German physician and public health authority, who toured the United States as a guest of the U.S. Department of State, spent some time with Dr. Waldbott. Dr. Hornung states that he still considers Dr. Waldbott an eminent scientist in the field of allergy, but "on the question of fluoridation, his scientific reasoning is tarnished constantly by an emotional bias."

IN REGARD to Mr. Rorty's qualifications on the subject of fluoridation as described in the February 13, 1953, editorial in the St. Louis Post Dispatch. The paper stated that Mr. Rorty's "piece is shot through with phraseology designed to scare the reader right out of his shoes."

In the August, 1953, issue of the Journal of the American Dental Association, Dr. J. Roy Doty, secretary of the Council on Dental Therapeutics, commenting on Mr. Rorty's ideas on fluoridation, stated:

"Since the general public is ordinarily not in the position to evaluate technical statements and does not have ready access to the medical and scientific literature which describes the studies bearing on fluoridation, many persons are particularly susceptible to flamboyant charges by irresponsible individuals who manage to surround themselves with an aura of expertness, and, like Don Quixote, manage to find innumerable 'windmills' which threaten health, sanity and well-being of the American public.

"It is unfortunate that these individuals must be dignified and given further publicity through the necessity of correcting the misinformation which they are spreading."

Mrs. Brown refers to my "inference" on the identity of anti-fluoridationists. It was not an inference, but a quotation from Newsweek magazine.

WITH PROPER nutritional practices, and the good fortune to have heredity factors conductive to good dental health, many more individuals in our society could be freed from dental caries. However, this small percentage increase, even under ideal conditions, could not statistically compare with the 65 per cent of dental decay which could be prevented through fluoridation of our water supply.

Authorities cannot, equally, be cited on both sides of fluoridation regarding its safety. I have yet to see a statement by any recognized authority which stresses other than the safety of fluoridation. Likewise, no authoritative study has shown other than the inexpensiveness of fluoridation.

Free choice is not curtailed by fluoridation of our water supply. The inconvenience which is now felt by those in the majority who favor fluoridation can be chosen by that minority which feels other than favorable to the scientific conclusions.

Are You Also Confused? About Our Districts?

By Herman Silverman

The other day a reader said to me, "I'm sometimes confused by the news in The Sun. In particular, I get mixed up on the affairs and problems of this district or that district. Most of the time I give up and turn to another page."

I cross-examined the resident and found that he didn't understand the organization, administration or reason for "district" form of government. He was specifically confused by the large number of districts in our area. He had moved here recently from an incorporated city—and there were no separate districts in his city.

I sympathized with him but proceeded to point out the importance of knowing what the districts are doing.

Too many to count . . .

He protested, "How can I possibly keep informed of the actions of all the districts? In fact, how can I even keep track of how many there are, much less know what they are doing?"

We proceeded to list them: fire districts, water districts, school districts, (grammar, high school and junior college), sewer districts, flood control districts, recreation districts, lighting districts, parking districts, mosquito abatement districts, smog control districts, transit and rapid transit districts, cemetery districts and others.

We both moaned.

Then, I jumped on the soap box and delivered a lecture.

Pocketbooks and us . . .

Said I: Yes, there are an awful lot of districts. And it is difficult to keep up with them. No one, not even a newspaper, can cover all their operations. But it is darned important that you and I know what some of them are doing. Why? Because these districts affect us, our families, our neighborhood, our community. And they affect our pocketbooks.

Do you realize that within a year you may not be allowed to go into the backyard and burn the trash in your incinerator? Why? Because we now have a Smog Control District. It's going to be inconvenient and costly but, if we don't want our wonderful area ruined by smog, we are going to have to cooperate.

Soon you will be asked to vote on a bond issue to finance the purchase of the Key System by the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District. These funds will also be used to repair the streets of Oakland. This is now a responsibility of the Key System and would be transferred to the District, as would Key's responsibility for removing the rails from the Bay Bridge. Needless to say, we are talking of millions of dollars. And your tax bill will reflect this.

And more millions of $$

Let's talk of more millions. The East Bay Municipal Utility District, which you and I own, will probably call an election on a $200,000,000 bond issue to finance a tremendous expansion program. You will be asked to vote yes or no.

Let's look at a problem a little closer to home. A movement has been revived to consolidate the fire districts in Central Contra Costa County into one big district governed by the county board of supervisors. There are many details which we will analyze in later editions. Proponents say that a consolidation will save much money and increase efficiency. Opponents argue that it will be more costly and inefficient. What do you think?

That's really an unfair question because no one knows. The County Taxpayers Association has recommended that a thorough study of this be researched by a professional organization, such as Stanford Research, Coro Foundation, or others. In my opinion, this is the only way we can arrive at an objective answer. Our supervisors have ordered the county administrator's office to study the problem. This is a step in the right direction but does not go far enough.

School consolidation?

The question of district consolidation may very well face many people in regards to schools. As you know, the Mt. Diablo primary and high school districts were successfully consolidated some years ago. The State has already indicated that consolidation may be forced on many districts. Is this good or bad?

Certainly, our school districts affect us vitally. For one thing, taxes will go up next year in every school district. But even closer than our taxbill is the way our children are educated.

You know, there is an interesting sidelight to the formation of so many districts. Many people in our unincorporated areas oppose incorporation or annexation to existing cities—primarily on the basis of cost. And yet we turn right around and pile up districts to do this job or that job. We will have more and more districts, costing more and more money, with more and more confusion.

I believe that an incorporated city or a group of cities could do the job better and cheaper in the long run. But that is another story.

In any event, I think it should be clear that our local governmental districts play an important role in our lives. It is important that we keep informed of the activities of the districts. The Sun will help you do so.

Civil Defense Week Begins Sept. 1:

The second annual National Civil Defense Week will be observed September 15 to 21. Observances by cities and towns last year developed a high level of awareness of civil defense activities, say officials.

Last year, thousands of pieces of literature were distributed, CD films were shown, talks were given, meetings were held.

The Theme of Civil Defense Week 1957 is "Government in Emergency" — the intergration into existing government of the capacity for decisive action in an emergency.

An article entitled "About the New Concept of Civil Defense" has been written by Mrs. Jean Wood Fuller, Directors of Women's Activities for Federal Civil Defense Administration.

She said, in part, that constant change in civil defense is necessary — not because previous concepts have been faulty, but because the problem changes with every advance in weapons.

Since the Federal Civil Defense Administration was founded in 1951, the problem has grown from weapons with explosive equivalents of 20,000 tons of TNT, to super weapons with millions of tons of explosive force. We have advanced from propeller-driven planes to jets, and now the intercontinental ballistic missile is near reality, she said.

Scout Council Organizing for United Crusade

Since a major portion of the Mt. Diablo Boy Scout Council's operating budget comes through the efforts of workers in the fall campaign, an organization to disseminate information about the United Crusade is being planned by the finance committee of Meridian District. King Parker Jr. is finance chairman.

"Steering Committee members have been appointed," stated Parker, "and zone chairmen are being selected by community leaders in Moraga-Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Danville and Alamo."

Zone chairmen will assist designated members of each cub pack, Boy Scout troop, Explorer post, ship and squadron to tell the story of financial needs to the parents of the members.

Appointed to the steering committee, are William P. Gilmore, of Orinda; Dr. Bill J. Harris, R. A. Whittaker Jr., and E.M. Read, Lafayette; Edward E. Railton, James J. Rolston, and H. H. Miller of Walnut Creek; Charles R. Stimpson and C. R. Graff of Danville.

Meridian District, since the formation of the new John Muir District from Martinez, Pacheco, and Pleasant Hill, now has 34 Cub Packs, 29 Boy Scout Troops, and 100 Explorer Units.

They are located as follows: Alamo—two packs, two troops, one explorer post; Danville—three packs, two troops, on explorer post; Orinda-Moraga — eight packs six troops, on explorer post, on ship, on air squadron; Lafayette — 10 packs, 10 troops, one post, one ship; Walnut Creek—11 packs, 10 troops, three explorer posts. Total is 73 units.

Christian Science

"Scientific healing" — healing through the power of God, Soul — will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek. The Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill meets at the Hillcrest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

Matthew's account of Christ Jesus' healing of the two blind men (9:27-31) will be ilncluded in the readings from the King James Version of the Bible. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Soul."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (210:11-16): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

SN Gets OK to Drop Automatic Crossing Signals

In a decision issued in San Francisco August 5 the California Public Utilities Commission authorized Sacramento Northern Railway to abandon automatic crossing signals at five locations on its stub line between Pittsburg and Lafayette.

These grade crossings are at Reliez Road, Trinity Avenue in the City of Walnut Creek, Norman Road, Main Street in Port Chicago and Nichols Road.

Request for permission to abandon the automatic signal at Bonanza Street in the City of Walnut Creek was temporarily denied the commission order stating that this request "will be disposed of by subsequent order."

Commission action was on recommendation of the commission's engineering staff.

"It appears that a public hearing is not necessary on this application," the commission stated. The order became effective immediately.

In its application, Sacramento Northern Railway pointed out that at the time the signals were installed regular passenger schedules were in operation between Pittsburg and Oakland; that this passenger service was discontinued about 15 years ago; that the portion of the applicant's line between Lafayette and Oakland was abandoned last February 28, and that freight service presently consists of one round trip daily between Walnut Creek and Pittsburg, Monday through Friday, with service on the spur between Walnut Creek and Lafayette only when required.

County Health To Get $89,210 From State Aid

The Health Department of Contra Costa County will receive $89,219 in state aid during the 1957-58 fiscal year.

The allocations are based on July 1, 1957, estimates of county population with adjustments slated during the third and fourth quarters to compensate for any population changes.

The funds will augment local appropriation and may be used at the discretion of the county for maintenance and operation, equipment, salaries and capital outlay programs within the department.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER
YE 4-3818

Good morning! And a happy one it is for yours truly for we attended the loveliest Sunday evening party in "Sleepy Hollow" this week. It was such a treat—seeing so many old friends again after the usual summer separations.

The night was balmy and the garden looked like a confectioner's concoction, what with white wrought iron garden furniture—pink umbrellas, pink cushions, pink flowers—and, yes, even pink gravel! Needless to say, all of the gals looked lovely in their pastel frocks.

Some of the couples there were Jane and Harry Peck, Lou and Joe Lang, Laura and Frank Dutra, Janet and Frank Wright, June and George Merriam, Marcellini and Harry Martin and Elizabeth and Clair Fishell.

All of Connie and Leo Kieny's friends will be happy to know that their little son, Tommy, is recovering nicely from last week's operation and will probably be home by the end of this week.

Some of our peregrinating neighbors

Vacationing at Tuolumne Meadows are Nancy and Ray Williams and their two children, Betsy and Jill. The Williams' live in Walnut Creek. Off for a two months visit to New York and Florida are Kay and John Slaughter of Orinda. Traveling with them and seeing his grandparents for the first time is their son, Johnny. While in Florida they hope to take a cruise to one of the many islands that dot the Florida coast. Friends of Marilyn and Stuart Wight of Walnut Creek will be happy to hear that they are the proud parents of a baby boy.

SEEN ATTENDING the wedding of Lorraine Dickson and John Regan were Nancy and James Dupuis, Nancy and Walter Edmonds, Beverly and Fred Boyajean—all of Orinda. The reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Montclair. The new Mrs. Regan will return to her teaching position in Walnut Creek in the fall.

A pack trip is in the offing for the Robert Ausfahls and son, King, and the Leland Hennings and their two boys. Packing back to Lake Seville in the Sierras, they will be gone for eight days.

You know, that big hill over there?

What fun! A real family outing to Mt. Diablo (right in our own back yard—and why don't we do it more often?). These families gathered there August 7 for a barbecue—the Ken Richardsons, the Robert Burgesses, the Albert Rubeys and Mrs. Susan Berryhill and her family.

Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Baird were Mr. and Mrs. Newell Bryson and their son Stewart from Atherton.

Vilma Smale, of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, her husband, Gerald, and daughter, Jean, have just returned from a very interesting trip up the coast. In northern California they visited "Confusion Hill"—which, according to Vilma, made her feel so off-balance that she had to leave early—something about gravity—or something! Then they saw the "Trees of Mystery." In Oregon they saw Oregon Caves and Crater Lake—where there waslots of snow and it was oh! so cold! The Smales returned by way of Redding and Red Bluff.

POPULAR JAY (Mrs. Tom) Bond seems to be spending most of this summer attending swim meets. Son Cab, last week won the trophy for boys eight and under at Las Lomas. Congratulations, "Champ."

Mary Alice and Bob Briggs enjoyed a trip to Reno and Tahoe and then came home to pick up their son, Guy, and were off again for a few days at Santa Cruz and an over-night's stay at "Santa's Village." No sooner were they home (with scarcely time to shake the sand out of their luggage) than Jane and Bob Sweeny and their family arrived from Chicago for a week's stay. Rest assured. They received a warm welcome!

C'est le Grand Tour local . . .

Arriving home just in time to get their eldest son, Steve, off to Boy Scout camp was the Cecil Cantrill family. "Gen" had taken their three children by plane to visit her parents, the Veales, in Topeka, Kansas, after which they met "Cec" in Salt Lake City. From there the family motored to Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Tetons, staying at the swank new Jackson Lake Lodge.

Eileen and Frank Juchter and daughter, Kendra, have just returned from a week at Alisal Ranch followed by a week at Lake Tahoe. This is the fifth year for the Juchters at Alisal so they feel right at home there! After this wonderful vacation, Eileen and Frank are busy with "homework"—namely, painting.

Pat Smith and her children drove to Las Vegas to visit her husband who has been working for some months on projects at Mercury, Nevada.

Have you heard about "Wednesday at the Claremont"? Truly it is a MUST! The premiere fashion show-luncheon last Wednesday was unofficially voted both a social and fashionable success by the more than 300 enthusiastic viewers who were present. Several of us were guests of charming Jacquie (Mrs. Murray) Lehr, of the Claremont, and what a delightful afternoon we spent.

Just chatting behind a potted fern . . .

Spotted among the "Garden Room" and adjoining patio guests were these lovelies from our side of the Tunnel: The Mesdames Leslie C. Rogers, Patrick Finn, William McGuire, Robert Muenter, Arthur Lundblad, Howard Hamilton, William Scatena, Les Malloy, Donald Mulford and Leonard Mahler. If I sound overly enthusiastic—it's because I am. Prediction! Meeting around the "Flower Fountain" in the main lobby on "Wednesday at the Claremont" will definitely replace "Meeting Under the Clock" at the St. Francis for women of the East Bay.

It was such a pleasure meeting and talking with Georgine Malloy who's husband Lee, recently purchased station KATT in Pittsburg. The Malloys and their two children now occupy the Reliez Valley home formerly owned by Shirley (we miss her) Marchant Weinmann, who now is a peninsula resident with husband, Tiller.

HEAR THAT JEAN Bettencourt of Orinda looked absolutely ravishing the other night at the Mira Vista Golf Club tournament dinner. Escorted by proud husband, Robert, who was one of the tournament players, Jean was wearing a stunning white sheath which accentuated her golden tan. Speaking of tans.

Is it possible that the time is drawing near when they will have to fade? Away with the "Coppertone" and back to breakfast on schedule and coaching on times-tables.

I'm not ready, are you?

Contra Costa Republicans will launch their 1958 "victory drive" with a "Grand Old Party" Saturday, September 21 at the R. Stanley Dollar Ranch in Walnut Creek, General Chairman Laurence P. Corbett of Walnut Creek announced yesterday.

The invitational affair will feature a beef barbecue, dancing and refreshments, Corbett said, with proceeds to be directed to United Republican Finance.

Co-sponsors of the "Grand Old Party" will be the Contra Costa Young Republicans, Women's Republican clubs and the Central Contra Costa Republican Assembly.

CORBETT, who is chairman of the Contra Costa Young Republicans, declared that "members of all eight Young Republican clubs in Contra Costa County are behind the 'Grand Old Party' and will marshal their collective resources to assure its success."

James E. Moriarty of Orinda, chairman of the Contra Costa County Central Committee, has written all Republican Women's clubs in the county advising them of the need for a strong campaign in 1958, and their chance to help financially at the "Grand Old Party" on September 21.

Mrs. Frank E. Young of Walnut Creek, coordinating chairman of the Contra Costa County Republican Women, pledged enthusiastic participation in the event. "We intend to be present en masse for the Grand Old Party on September 21," she stated. "Our elected representatives on the state and national level, including Representative John Baldwin and Assemblyman Donald Doyle, will be present to meet with us and discuss plans for 1958.

"ON THE SOCIAL side," Mrs. Young added, "the Dollar Ranch has proved itself a scene of successful Republican events, the last of which was the Republican Roundup held in honor of visiting dignitaries during the 1956 Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Wm. J. Bolce Jr. of Lafayette, president of the Central Contra Costa Republican Assembly, described the September 21 event as a "perfect opportunity for past, present and future members of the Republican Assembly to do their part for the GOP with a Grand Old Party.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Carmel, and plan to live in Walnut Creek. The bridegroom is attending East Contra Costa Junior College and is employed by the phone company.

The double ring ceremony was conducted by Rev. A. Ray Petty.

JOAN WAS given away by her father, Henry Hoffman of 185 Vivian Drive, Pleasant Hill.

Her gown was princess style of chantilly lace, over taffeta, long sleeves, empire bodice with velvet ribbon bow in back and streamers falling full length down the chapel length train.

Her veil was fingertip length french tulle, held in place by a crown of lace, matching her gown and pearls. Her crown and the attendants hats were designed and made by her mother.

Joan carried a prayer book with streamers of split white carnations and a removable white orchid corsage in the center, which she wore when leaving for the honeymoon.

MATRON OF HONOR was Mrs. Johon Arata, the bride's aunt. Attendants were Mrs. James Pryor, Mrs. Albert Fraschieri, Miss Carol Helstrom and Miss Ruth Stewart. Flower girl was Mari Lynn Maas, age 2.

All the attendants and little Mari were dressed alike except for color of gown.

Susan Lamberth Becomes Mrs. John C. Williamson

Flickering colored lights placed in the many trees surrounding the swimming pool in the Orinda gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rawson, and a Hawaiian orchestra formed the background for the reception last Saturday night following the 8 p.m. wedding of Susan Rodman Lamberth and John Craig Williamson.

Officiating at the service, which was held in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda, was the Rev. John Blacklidge. The 150 guests in attendance also were guests at the reception.

Following a honeymoon in Carmel the newlyweds will make their home in Pleasanton.

A matching lace cap trimmed in seed pearls clasped a short tulle veil and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and phaeleonopsis.

PRECEDING HER down the aisle were four attendants, all classmates at Cal.

They were all gowned alike in maize colored, danslite taffeta, fashioned with Chantilly lace bodices, cap sleeves and boat necklines. In their hair they wore wreaths of marguerites and carried bouquets of the same flowers.

Mundy, Elaine Tod Wed At First Presbyterian

August 4 rites in the First Presbyterian Church of Concord united in marriage Miss Janet Elaine Tod and Theodore Franklin Mundy. The Reverend Ernest Iden Bradley officiated.

The benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore S. Mundy of 101 Chalomar Court, Concord, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill E. Tod of 788 Brookdale Court, Concord.

Preceding the double ring ceremony, George Prall, accompanied by Dawn Davis at the organ, sang "Because," "Oh, Promise He," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, Janet was a lovely bride in a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The bouffant skirt of lace appliqued tulle was attached to a fitted, long-sleeved bodice with V-shaped neckline. Securing her veil of silk illusion was a crown of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of carnations, stephanotis and detachable philanopsis orchids.

Joan Machada, the maid of honor, and Beverly Mundy, bridesmaid and sister of the groom, wore ballerina length dresses of chiffon and lace with cap sleeves and scoop neckline — Joan's in mint green and Beverly's of pink. Their small crowns, circular veils and shoes were in matching hues, and streamers of the same color fell from their bouquets of white carnations.

Serving Theodore as best man was Dale Graser, and Grant Tod, Janet's brother, and Frank Borges of Walnut Creek performed usher duties.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tod was attractively attired in a street length ensemble of dusty rose with three-quarter length sleeves and jacket and matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink philanopsis orchids. Mrs. Mundy selected a beige sheath and coat ensemble with matching accessories, and wore white orchids.

More than 200 guests were present at the reception which followed at the new Farm Bureau Building on Clayton Road, where Mrs. Dale Graser, Mrs. Frank Borges, Mrs. Ray Oslin and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gregg assisted with festivities.

Centering the bride's table was a beautiful three-tiered cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Mundy, the benedict's mother. White swans, rosettes and a miniature bride and groom in a wedding bell topped circlet added to the artistic beauty of the cake, and at the base was an outstanding feature, a pair of war hands which had been used on Mr. Tod's weds will receive friends in their newly purchased home at 1855 Jacqueline Way, where much of the furniture was made by Theodore as a wedding present for his bride. To leave for the honeymoon, Janet donned a suit of lime green to which she pinned the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Last year's budget was $46,352 less than the budget of the new fiscal year.

The trustees awarded a $325,627 contract for construction of a vocation arts building to C. Overaa Company of Richmond. It will be built on the west campus.

A total of $3,541,000 worth of buildings have been erected in the district since its formation in 1949, McCunn added.

Flowering Vines Provide Rich Beauty for Garden

By THE GARDENER

FLOWERING VINES are admired alike by practical gardeners and by dreamy romantics.

The practical home gardener finds appeal in the vines' usefulness for shade and decoration.

The romantic, however, may associate wisteria with the charming Old South, fragrant jasmine with the mysterious Orient, and brilliant bougainvillea with exotic Latin America.

But even if the gardener is more romantic than practical, he, too, needs practical information to successfully raise flowering vines.

YOUR LOCAL nurseryman will gladly explain the merits of individual vines.

Charming wisteria trails its beauties all over California, liking deep, rich soil, and providing deep shade in summer.

Wisteria vines love sun, and grow out laterally from a woody, picturesque trunk, making it advantageous for use over porches or strong trellises.

If the architectural support is lacking, however, wisteria may be grown successfully in all its beauty as a tree.

CHINESE WISTERIA, in blue or white varieties, is among the most popular vines in California.

The odor of jasmine is one of the wonders of the gardening world. Not enough that its fragrance should be so universally appealing, it provides remarkable beauty of form and flower as well.

The lovely Star Jasmine, which serves equally well as a ground cover or vine, prefers shady growing areas, but grows well in the sun, also.

THE GARDENER who plants Star Jasmine for summer shade also reaps the additional benefit of winter shade, because the vine is evergreen, covered with dark green foliage all year.

Evergreen Clematis grows successfully throughout California, and yields fragrant white open flowers in spring.

This dark-foliaged trailer should be carefully trained when in the growing season to prevent tanglements, but this attention pays dividends.

Evergreen Clematis is commonly seen on fences, over entrances and on various flat surfaces, for it is a tendril climber, requiring no strings or poles.

VIOLET TRUMPET Vine (clytostoma callistegioides, or bigonia violacea) is another hardy evergreen vine.

Its light lavender trumpet-shaped flowers come forth every spring and summer. It is a popular choice for open, overhead trellises, because of its attractive appearance from below.

Many varieties of Honeysuckle (lonicera) are available for various areas of California.

A popular variety for all regions of California is the Purple Japanese Honeysuckle (L japonica chinensis), which provides the famous beauty and fragrance of Honeysuckle, and is fast growing, requiring little attention.

Coleman Has Contract for AFB Housing

David Coleman, Orinda architect, with E. I. Norberg, A.I.A., and Wilsey and Ham, civil engineers, have been awarded the architectural contract for the design and engineering of the $8,900,000.00 Capehart housing project to be built at Hamilton Air Force Base in Marin County.

The project covers 213 acres, with 550 housing units plotted to afford the greatest in interest and privacy for each family. There are two, three and four-bedroom homes in the group.

Coleman's office is at 107 Orinda Highway, Orinda, where this design work is being done by the men of his staff, Joe Smoot, Kaya Ogdemli, Joe Amestoy, Jess Marks, Harold Hayashi and Howard Weber.

Coleman his his Master's degree in Architecture from University of California. He holds the commission of lieutenant colonel in the United States Air Force Reserve and spent 18 months as a fighter pilot in the South Pacific during World War II.

Coleman and his wife, Betty, and their two daughters, Terry and Hollv, have lived in Orinda since 1948.

County Semi-Pros Win Opener

Panthers Wallop Oakland Club by Five Touchdowns

Contra Costa's semi-pro Panthers scored their first touchdown of the season Saturday early in the first quarter and then went on to score four more as they trounced the Golden Gate Athletic Club of Oakland 36-0 for their first win of the season.

The Panthers, who went down before the Santa Cruz Seahawks 13-2 and the Valley AC of Fresno 12-00 in earlier games, were in charge all the way as they scored in every period and led 16-0 at the half.

THE OAKLAND TEAM, favored after losing to Santa Cruz by only a single touchdown, was able to cross the 5000-yard line only once in the game which was played at Pittsburg High School.

Tomorrow, the Panthers will resume their schedule with an exhibition contest at San Quentin.

An estimated 1000 fans cheered as tackle Butch Davis made the first of his three recoveries of Golden Gate fumbles inside the losers' 40.

HALFBACK FRANK AIELLO hit pay dirt for the first CC touchdown of the season on an eight yard smash over right guard, and halfback Bob Ramey added another touchdown before the quarter ended with a six-yard run over right tackle.

Halfback Al Cassilas returned a punt of 38 yards in the second quarter for a TD that was nullified by a roughing-the-kicker penalty, but minutes later, Cassilas tackled Tex Williams in the zone after the Oakland defender had intercepted a pass to add two.

The half ended at 16-0. In the third quarter, fullback Charlie Esposito hit over left tackle for seven yards and the Contra Costans' third TD.

ESPOSITO SCORED again after guard Ed Miller recovered end Bill Parnell's onside kickoff on the Golden Gate 49. The fullback took it over with a three yard drive again over left tackle.

Another fumble recovery by tackle Jerry Gandy on the Oaklanders' 29 set the stage for the final score. Quarterback Dennis Coffee's pass to end Dan Colchico accounted for the six points.

Guard Al Boots narrowly missed the fifth conversion after converting in four previous tries.

Martin D Mecurrio, George Moorhouse, Cliff Carpenello, Boot, Davis and Gandy were standouts in the line for the winners with Joe Siino, Joe Rosalez and Miller performing well in the linebacker spots.

CASILLO, AIELLO AND Frank Martinez stood out in the secondary for the winners. Guard Don West is expected to return to action tomorrow at San Quentin after suffering a knee injury on the fourth play of Saturday's contest.

For the losers, former ECCJC guard Harry Miller, ex-California halfback Nat Brazil and quarterback Emmett Kirtman were top players.

Mt. Diablo returnees tryouts will include Ed Ulrich, George Darrow, Don Bo, Ted Plumb and quarterback Merle Marshall.

IN ADDITION TO Eichmeyer, Acalanes candidates are tackle Frank Malynm and halfback Harold Ecklund.

Danilovich urged prospective players to check their enrollment status and return player cards to him as soon as possible.

The Viking coach is starting his second season at ECCJC. Danilovich was graduated from St. Mary's and did graduate work at San Francisco State College and USC.

HIS FIRST coaching position was at Weed High School in Siskiyou County where his teams lost only two games in three years. Then he spent 11 years at the Antioch High School helm where his squads tasted defeat on only 11 occasions.

He coached for four years at West Contra Costa JC, guiding the Comets to two conference championships and a Potato Bowl appearance. The Comets won 75 per cent of their games during the four-year span.

Here is the 1957 schedule:

Jobs Are Open

Contra Costa County Civil Service Commission has announced that applications are being accepted for counsellor, juvenile hall and field probation officer. Written examinations will be held September 7.

THE FORTY-NINERS are busy training at St. Mary's College, Moraga. Under the tutelage of Frankie Albert, their head coach, the San Francisco professional football team players are preparing for a rough-tough gridiron season. Hot Race Looms At Speedway

Hugh Purdy, top winner at Contra Costa Speedway, will be back for his fifth hartop victory of the season in tomorrow night's 500-lap main event.

Purdy will load Santa Rosa contingent that has taken plenty of prize money out of the East Bay. He and Eddie Mingeli dirve for Peter Culkin, lumberman from Cloverdale.

OUT TO STOP Purdy's victory string, and at the same time show the NASCAR driver that the Bay Cities Racing Association cars are just as hot as his, will be Bob Caswell, last year's BCRA champion, and Gene Dudley, point loader in this year's hardtop championship race.

Another Santa Rosa driver, Johnny Franklin, has been moving up in the championship race and especially has proven a thorn in Dudley's side.

THE TWO DRIVERS tangled a few weeks ago and Dudley spun Franklin out of the race. Since then Franklin has made it his business to see that Dudley doesn't get past him. And Dudley hasn't won a race after that mixup.

Other top drivers entered in the complete nine-event show include Chet Thomson, Oakland; Mel and Wally Baker, Sacamento; Peewee Waybright, Oakland; Lemar Barron, Castro Valley, and Ted Montague, Hayward.

Time trials open the show at 7 p.m.

Members Hear Doctor Speak

Dr. Fredric Elridge, assistant professor of medicine at Stanford University, was guest speaker at the quarterly meeting of the medical staff of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center last night.

Dr. Henrik L. Blum was program chairman. Dr. Elridge spoke on "Treatment of Respiratory Insufficiency and the Use of Positive Pressure for Breathing Exercises."

Prior to this meeting, the executive committee of the medical staff held its regular meeting at the Center. Dr. Harold S. Robinson, chairman, presided.

Playtime Club Captures Concord Softball Title

Playtime Club won the Concord "A" softball league title last week by trimming the Concord Merchants 1-0 and 4-1 in the two-of-three playoff series.

Pitcher Will Fry went the full seven innings in both games for the winners, posting a remarkable pitching record in the process. In 14 innings he yielded only five hits and one run, striking out 11 and walking five.

HE WOULD HAVE had two consecutive shutouts except for Playtime's only error of the series, in the third inning of the second game when the Merchants' Neal Dunn scored on a misplay after reaching base on a double.

Twice-beaten pitcher Jess Peebles matched Fry's one-hitter in the first game. Two costly errors by the Merchants spelled the difference between the two fine pitching performances.

In the second contest, Playtime reached Peebles for seven hits which they combined with Merchant errors for their four runs.

PEEBLES TWO-GAME allowance was eight hits, five runs (two earned runs), six strikeouts and eight bases on balls.

In the well-played opener, Larry Minshall's sixth inning single scored Fry with the only run of the game after the Playtime pitcher had reached first on a fielder's choice and advanced on an overthrow.

A double play from shortstop Bob Rose to second baseman Jay Sims to first baseman Tony Ferrari in the first inning erased the only serious Merchant threat of the game.

BOTH RUNNERS had reached base on Fry's two walks of the contest. The only other Merchant to get on was Ron Cope who spoiled Fry's no-hitter with a looping third inning double.

In the second game, Playtime took a 2-0 first inning lead on a single hit when Rose singled, Minshall was safe on a fielder's choice and both men scored on two Merchant errors.

The winners tallied two more in the third on hits by Terry Taylor, Frank Davenport and Joe Naterangelo.

A GOOD PEG FROM centerfielder Stan Gaunt to Minshall at third base in the seventh inning erased a final Merchant threat.

The city champion Playtime team won the first half of summer softball play; the Merchants came back strong to take second half honors.

Farr's Bowlers In First Place By Themselves

Martin Brothers team lost its first place tie position with Farr's T.V. in the Women's Night Owl League at Monument Bowl Tuesday night when it dropped all 4 points to Quaker State.

Farr's 3-point win over second place team, Bill's Texaco, kept it in the No. 1 spot, and it now leads Martin Brothers by 3 points.

The two teams are a cinch to capture the two top prizes next Tuesday night when the summer season comes to an end.

Davi Jewelers took 3 from Stone's Men's Wear, and Davi's Sally Kilgore came in with a 191 for high game of the evening, as well as a 169 and a 147, making a total of 507 for high series honors.

Cynthia Mandel of Farmer's Insurance Group was close with a 190 game.

Barbara Meier picked up the 2-7-10 split, and her team, Tri-Cities Amusement, won 3 points from Farmer's.

'Anne Frank' Slated for SF

"The Diary of Anne Frank," one of the outstanding plays of recent years, begins a four-week engagement at the Alcazar Theater, San Francisco, on Monday evening, August 26. Winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the New York Drama Critics Award as the best play of 1955-56, "The Diary of Anne Frank" recently embarked on a coast-to-coast tour after playing 90 weeks on Broadway.

Joseph Schildkraut of stage screen and TV fame is starred in the role he created on Broadway. Featured players are Maria Palmer, Lou Jacobi, Nan McFarland, Abigail Kellogg, Lou Gilbert and Otto Hulett. Miss Kellogg plays Anne.

"The Diary of Anne Frank" was dramatized by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett from the Nazis for two years in an Amsterdam attic with seven others. The play is produced by Kermit Bloomgarden and is directed by Garson Kanin.

Junior Golfers Start Training At Meadowbrook

An unusually large group of junior golfers began lessons recently at Meadowbrook Golf Club in Reliez Valley.

Sixty-five would-be links champions started classes under the tutelage of Dave Mancour, golf pro at Meadowbrook, and his brother, Larry, assistant pro.

Six class times were necessary to fill the demand for lessons. Indications are for even larger classes in the future.

The new students are divided almost equally among boys and girls, with the sons of members having a slight edge in numbers. The age range of the new golfers is between 7 and 15 years.

The lessons are being given free of charge by Mancour and his brother. Equipment for those not having clubs is being supplied from out of the facilities of Mancour's pro shop at the club.

Dave has high hopes for future junior golf champions out of his large group of beginners. Several have already shown early possibilities for prowess in the game.
